Minimize Operating Cost Without Sacrificing Comfort.

Businesses large and small rely on Penguin as their go-to source for mechanical construction. Backed by decades of know-how and experience, we consistently address any and all mechanical needs and requirements, while continually surpassing client expectations for quality and professionalism. Because we've built our business on a solid foundation of innovation, our solutions are creative and made to address old problems in new ways, marked by principles of integrity, quality, functionality, and dependability.

Penguin provides a full range of mechanical, electrical, and facility management services. As systems have become increasingly sophisticated, operating and maintaining a complex facility demands a higher level of skill and training than ever before. In order to reduce overhead, buildings must be run more efficiently while still providing the highest levels of comfort and convenience. Many customers have chosen to concentrate on their primary businesses, relying on Penguin to provide the necessary facilities management services.

By drawing on the talents of our tradesmen and women, engineers, and managers, we strive to consistently meet the needs and standards of our industry: quality work, on-time results, cost-competitive performance, and the ability to develop, apply, and maintain improvements in facilities management technology and methods.

Our management services include:

- » Mechanical and electrical system maintenance
- » Facility electrical services
- » Facility maintenance services
- » Energy management and security
- » Emergency procedures
- » Diagnostic and back-up services
- » Voice and data communications systems
- » Preventive maintenance programs
